TJ Lowe

This home-grown supplier of electrical engineering solutions to industry was helped by RiDO and partner organisations in its £1m expansion into a purpose-built HQ and training centre in spring 2002. The company liked Rotherham so much that it stayed not just in the borough, but in the same business park, in Templeborough.

"We did look at other places – that's just good business sense. But RiDO worked with us throughout the process of choosing to remain in the borough and, by comparison, Rotherham is the best. The attraction, apart from good working relations with RiDO, Business Link and Imex Spaces, is that it is an exceptional location. And Bradmarsh Business Park is one of the best for miles around."
